Los Angeles, CA – November 2025 – Anton Guinea, sought after leadership and team coaching expert, will be a headline speaker at Mega Success 2025 in Los Angeles this November. His presentation will focus on the importance of leadership coaching and how leaders and organisations can fully leverage their coaching and team development relationships to drive psychological safety and high performing businesses.

Mega Success is a premier event that convenes world-class wealth coaches, entrepreneurs, and business leaders, including icons such as Gene Simmons and Jay Abraham. The summit is designed to deliver high-impact experiential experiences, strategic insights, and professional development opportunities.

Anton Guinea's approach to leadership coaching is rooted in mastery and emotional intelligence. He emphasises that true leadership transformation comes not only from knowledge but from deep emotional connection and consistent coaching engagement. "Human beings are driven by emotions, not logic," Anton explains. "Leadership coaching is about evolving how you lead at your core, and team development accelerates this by creating high-trust, high-performing teams."

Anton shares from his personal journey overcoming a near fatal workplace accident, to becoming a globally recognised speaker, crediting coaching as a pivotal factor in his transformation. "I don't measure success by how many programs I've sold, but by how many success stories I've helped create," he states. This ethos underpins his session, which will equip leaders to harness coaching as a tool for lasting organizational and personal growth.

Attendees will learn:

- How to develop a coaching mindset that drives consistency and accountability
- Practical strategies to deepen team development and maximise group dynamics
- The leadership behaviours that generate respect, profits, and psychological safety
- Ways to build lifetime coaching relationships with mentors and peers

Anton Guinea's session at Mega Success is a must-attend for professionals ready to elevate their leadership impact and unlock the full potential of coaching and team development.
